Here are my final comments on this. I had two additions to sections that I already sent to you as reviewed, footnotes with citations to the FOIA and the Privacy Act. I also updated the date in the title of the document so that we can keep better track.

I'm available to chat if needed. Thanks again for giving me the opportunity to review this.

- The foreseeable harm arising from the release of materials covered by the attorney-client privilege (for example, confidential emails between an attorney and her client asking for legal advice) may be that the lawyer would no longer be kept fully informed by their client, resulting in unsound legal advice and advocacy.
- The foreseeable harm arising from the release of materials covered by the attorney work-product privilege (for example, attorney notes made in reasonable anticipation of litigation) may be a harm to the adversarial trial process by exposing the attorney's preparation to scrutiny.

Age of the information in the record

Has the sensitivity faded over time? Was the record created more than 25 years before the request was made?

If the sensitivity has faded over time, it is less likely foreseeable harm would arise. If the record was created more than 25 years before the request was made, the deliberative process privilege will no longer apply Sensitivity of individual record portions Can the sensitive materials be segregated from non-sensitive materials?

If the sensitive materials can be non-sensitive materials, it is less likely foreseeable harm would arise from releasing the segregated materials

As a general rule, as illustrated by CHART 2, active deliberative matters are inherently more sensitive than closed matters.

Closed matters may nevertheless retain some sensitivities that can be protected from release. The articulation of harm in such closed matters must be particularly clear.

Exemption 8: protects information of agencies responsible for the regulation or supervision of financial institutions and is nearly never used by the Department.

Exemption 9: protects geological and geophysical information and data, including maps, concerning wells (water wells, natural gas wells, and oil wells all are included). It is possible, though not always the case, that the foreseeable harm arising from the release of information covered by Exemption 9 could be unfair competitive harm arising to oil and gas explorers and extractors from speculators. It is also possible, though also not always the case, that the foreseeable harm arising from the release of the data would be placing one party at a disadvantage in negotiations over the use of the contents of the well.

When reviewing records to determine whether these exemptions apply, you must carefully review all portions of the records to be sure they fall within the scope of the claimed exemption. You must also reasonably segregate any non-exempt information in order to make a partial disclosure, if possible.

IV. Conclusion

If you have any questions or need assistance, please contact your Bureau FOIA Officer and/or contact me at 202-208-5342 or at cindy.cafaro@ios.doi.gov.

Dan's been called into a 5pm in the secretary's corridor - he suggests going forward with the mtg as scheduled with Eric Shepard and John Hay, adding our Josh Campbell, a political in our office, for time and efficiency sake - I know your time in the morning is limited and Dan's is as well. I've left you a voice message as well. mg

Dear Mr. Tobias,

On March 22, 2018, the U.S. Department of the Interior, Office of the Solicitor, received your Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request. In your request, you specifically ask for:

“All written or electronic communications, including attachments between DOI staffer Mariagrazia Caminiti and lobbyist Allen Freemyer of the firm Freemyer & Associates, PC. This request seeks documents produced between April 1, 2017 and the date this request is processed.”

In response to your letter, the Office of the Solicitor searched its records and found 15 pages responsive to your request. Upon review, the Office of the Solicitor has decided to release the 15 pages to you in full. Please see the documents attached.

This concludes the Office of the Solicitor’s response to your request. The fee incurred in responding to your request is less than $50 and is not being charged in accordance with 43 CFR 2.16(b)(2).

Sincerely,

Lance Purvis Office of the Solicitor

Allen,

This is what I have in common for Dan and Kathy on the 3rd:

30 min at 4:00 or 40 min at 5:00.

Do you have other date options you'd like me to check?

Cheers.mg

Allen,

Great, I'll send you a calendar invite, and prepare a security clearance form. I believe you should be able to forward my invite to the other participants for their calendars, or send me their emails and I'll gladly add them. Would you have written material you want to share prior to the meeting?

Dear Mr. Tobias,

On March 22, 2018, the U.S. Department of the Interior, Office of the Solicitor, received your Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request. In your request, you specifically ask for:

“All written or electronic communications, including attachments between DOI staffer Mariagrazia Caminiti and lobbyist Allen Freemyer of the firm Freemyer & Associates, PC. This request seeks documents produced between April 1, 2017 and the date this request is processed.”

In response to your letter, the Office of the Solicitor searched its records and found 15 pages responsive to your request. Upon review, the Office of the Solicitor has decided to release the 15 pages to you in full. Please see the documents attached.

This concludes the Office of the Solicitor’s response to your request. The fee incurred in responding to your request is less than $50 and is not being charged in accordance with 43 CFR 2.16(b)(2).

Sincerely,

Lance Purvis Office of the Solicitor
